Failure of an Extensive Jay-Gould Road in St. Louis—Other Financial Complications.

NEW YORK.

SUSPENSION OF ONE MORE COMMISSION FIRM.

New York, July 24.—[Special.]—The Ann Promoting Company, known to almost every one on the Produce Exchange, suspended this morning. Two of the others said that the main cause of the failure was the loss caused by the recent Washington decision, which compelled them to pay the duty on goods which they had imported for J. C. Crosby & Co. of Chicago, Jesse Lloyd being placed at $50,000. The creditors had determined to give to one firm a week and make some arrangements with the creditors to go on again. In the meantime the property would be placed in the hands of a receiver. This failure of Arrowsmith, Lyon, Lloyd, and Lamont, Inc., caused a run of $50,000 over the counters of Lamont, Corliss & Co., but the company could have stood the run if it had been the Home Western failure coming on Monday of last week. Mr. Draper, the receiver, has been appointed, and the same committee have been appointed to act with him. The creditors met yesterday afternoon in Auburn, Me., and the assets were found to be $100,000, and the liabilities $150,000. The creditors had appointed a committee to confer with the assignee. The assignee had appointed Mr. Auburn, Me., as his counsel. The assignee will probably be appointed to-day.

A. D. Foss & Co. have an assignment to-day, giving preference for $12,000. The liabilities were said verbally known, but were thought to be about $30,000. It was said that the U. S. Express Company was not to be named in the assignment, but that the company would be protected by the bonds of the individual members. The assets were said to be about $30,000, consisting of cash and accounts. The assignment was executed to Charles Dodd, and Mr. Foss was appointed assignee according to the terms of the assignment. The assignment was executed at 10:30 a. m. to-day.

The firm of Charles Mitchell, Jones, Hopkins & Co., of which Mitchell was the senior member, has gone to the wall. The liabilities are said to be $100,000. The assets are said to be $50,000. The failure was caused by the failure of the Indiana Banking Company, which was controlled by the firm. Judge Taylor has appointed Mr. Mitchell receiver, and he has given bonds in the sum of $100,000. The assets consist of cash, stocks, bonds, and accounts

The cotton crop is reported to be in excellent condition.

THE CONGRESS AT ZURICH.

LONDON, July 23.—It is understood the Egyptian Conference has decided to agree to regard to England's financial proposals. England and France are also united. Lord Granville has announced his readiness to undertake the negotiations at any time.

Washington, the French Minister, will formally present the French consular project to the Egyptian Conference to-morrow. The conference will postpone a decision on the English or French proposals, but will agree to such a modification of the law of liquidation as will enable England to arrange part of the Egyptian loan. The conference will then adjourn until October.

CHOLERA AND PLAGUE.

THE COTTON TRADE.

LONDON, July 23.—The annual report of the Northern Spinners' Association states that the cotton trade has not been prosperous during the last year. It draws attention to the exceptional facilities offered by the growing and spinning industry in India, and declares that this competition is becoming serious. The trade also suffers heavily from heavy and, next to India, however, there has lately been a serious increase of labour unrest in Lancashire, which is of the higher quality. The report urges the maintenance of a good understanding of the labor question.

DISASTERS.

LONDON, July 23.—[Special.]—Advices from Corunna, Spain, report a collision at sea between the Spanish steamer Vigo, from Corunna for Cuba, and the British steamer Carlton. Both vessels sank. Forty-five of the Vigo's passengers and eleven of the Carlton's crew were landed at Corunna. It is believed the rest of the passengers and crews were saved. There was a serious misunderstanding of the signals displayed, and the vessels came together at a high rate of speed. The night was terrible, and both steamers sank almost immediately.

A dispatch from Corunna says: The passengers and crews of the Vigo and Carlton, in addition, numbering 50 persons, took to the boats, but have not been heard from since. Numerous lives are supposed to be lost.

We are confronted with the Democratic party, long hungry, and, as one would believe, long thirsty—a party that will believe, long thirsty—a party without a single definite principle, a party without any distinct national policy which it desires to support on the ground—a party which, for three years, has been on a conspiracy against Democratic rights, and now attempts to secure power through a conspiracy against our principles and spirit.—George William Curtis.

CARTER H. HARRISON

The following is Mayor Harrison's letter accepting the nomination of the Democratic Convention for Governor:

CHICAGO, July 23, 1884.—Hon. John C. Black, Hon. John D. Gibbons and Hon. William H. Green, Gentlemen of the Committee: In replying to your notification of my nomination for membership by the Democracy of Illinois for the high office of Governor of this State, permit me to express my profound thanks for the great honor done me. Never doubting the justice of the cause which I have labored to uphold and champion, I am content to leave the decision of the great Commonwealth to be settled by the free vote of the people. But when unsolicited advancement is proffered by the party to which I belong, it is natural for me to feel a gratification which I should be the last to conceal. Nor can I refrain from saying that I am fortified in my belief that the Democracy will carry the approaching election by the fact that the nomination has been tendered to me without any solicitation, direct or indirect, on my part. I am, moreover, encouraged to accept the honor by the assurance that I am invited to do so by the unanimous voice of the Democracy of Cook County, which, by the vote of its delegates to the State Convention, has given me a majority of more than 5,000 votes. Under such circumstances I feel that I am not only justified in accepting the nomination, but that it would be unjust to the Democracy of Cook County for me to refuse to do so. I am aware that the contest in which we are about to engage will be a severe one, and that the Democracy will have to put forth its best efforts to secure success. But I am confident that the Democracy of Illinois will respond to the call, and that the result will be a victory which will redound to the honor of the party and the State. I am, gentlemen, very truly yours, CARTER H. HARRISON.

The Democratic party of Illinois is to be congratulated upon the choice it has made for its candidate for Governor. Mr. Harrison is a man of the people, and has always been a consistent and faithful member of the party. He has been tried in many positions of trust, and has never been found wanting. He is a man of unquestioned integrity, and his private character is above reproach. He is a man of the people, and has always been in sympathy with the masses. He is a man of ability, and has always been able to defend his principles and his party. He is a man of courage, and has never been afraid to meet his opponents face to face. He is a man of the world, and has always been able to mingle with men of all classes and conditions. He is a man of the people, and has always been able to mingle with men of all classes and conditions. He is a man of the people, and has always been able to mingle with men of all classes and conditions.

THE IRISH VOTE.

John Devoy Explains Why the Countrymen Will Not Support Cleveland.

Caustic Attention of Mr. Blaine and Suggestions of Mr. Cleveland's Moral Character.

"Is Irish Real Again" the Note of Democratic Knee-Bringer—A General Revolt.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 30.—[Special.]—John Devoy, the well-known editor of the Irish Nation of New York, reached here yesterday and spoke at the picnic of the Irish Land League. Mr. Devoy is a bright journalist, and undoubtedly his opinions will have great weight with the large and influential class among whom the paper circulates. Mr. Devoy was interviewed before he left.

"Do you consider all the Irish-Americans who are opposed to the nomination of Cleveland?" was asked.

"So much so indeed as to make him, after the difference of the Independent Democrats, next to certain the election of Blaine and Logan. I think this is the most that can be said of it. I have never seen anything like it since I came to this country. It looks like a movement as deeply rooted as that started by Grant."

"To what do you attribute this? Is it altogether for the Republican candidate, or partly also to Cleveland?"

"There is a good deal of both. Independent as this section is, there was much to be said against the Democratic candidate for Governor, and that was overcome with the greatest difficulty. But the feeling against Cleveland is universal and overwhelming, and now they are to again work."

"What do you attribute this antipathy to Cleveland among the Irish?"

"To a combination of causes. In the first place, the Irish, as quarrel what question they may, are an exceptionally moral people, and charges against him of the grossest kind have very widely circulated among them. I don't mean to say much about this, but the feeling resulting from it possesses almost to nothing. Then has come a great factor in accounting for the attitude of large numbers of Irishmen to this State, at least. That is, Cleveland is regarded as practically a Scotchman. The enthusiasm and surroundings are all of that character. The element in the Democratic party to which he belongs, the non-assimilative element, are the most inflexible enemies of the Irish. They are constantly slandering them in the press every time of late that they rise to a really important office. It was the old colonial French blood, which in the old countries doesn't mix with the Irish, although in our country it does very well. They slaughtered Wilkes Cornell when he was a candidate for Secretary of State. They tried to defeat Fitzsimmons in Chicago when he was for Mayor of New York City, and he would have been beaten but for the Irish Republicans and the Irish. They slaughtered Secretary O'Connor, of Boston, and Governor Butler would have been defeated for Governor last fall, and was a Republican to the Legislature to-day. It has been also charged on Mr. Cleveland and all the nominees for those two of them on the Buffalo Convention, to say nothing of a strong popular element, and gave it to Hayward, a man after their own heart. Mr. Cleveland took an active part in the Hayward movement. One would not be quick to join the hostility by drawing Hayward to the polls."

"How deep is not the Scotsman and Irish-American detestation Hayward?"

"They unquestionably considered their claims, but evidence the first time until and have succeeded. Now to Buffalo, for instance, was a republican organization and there that it was the Irish who carried the city for Cleveland. I was born in the Irish and I was born in the South of the Irish and I was raising there. The Irish who had never voted and another backbone in the party were Irish. Even Irish-Americans who had gone into politics and had come to be quite well-to-do, and who had no personal interest to serve, were against Cleveland. Many of the Irish-Americans would have voted the Democratic ticket, however, when their duty was to oppose it conscientiously, and now they are to again work."

"What do you consider the most serious charge against Cleveland among the Irish?"

"The combination of causes. John Long, a lad aged four from Bay City, Mich., stood with a companion at the corner of Union and Randolph streets early yesterday morning. Both were clearly watched by Officer Rogers. When a stranger with his hands full of candy came along the latter noticed that he dropped a piece from the pocket. The officer stopped and arrested Long, with the following result: Both denied that they had taken any candy; the officer told them that he had seen them; they were taken to the station, searched, and candy to the value of 10 cents found on Long. Charles C. White will bring a suit for $5,000 against the city for the arrest of his son Long, who was released on bail.

Detective Sabel Brown was arrested yesterday for false imprisonment. Harry Hartig, of No. 172 Ontario street, a schoolmaster, employed as compositor. The charge originated as follows: A typewriter was lost by Mr. Hartig, and he suspected Miss Brown, who had called at the office. Brown was arrested on suspicion, and was held to the Criminal Court. They will not find out the truth in Harry and Detective Brown must be content to be his bondsman. Detective Sabel and Chief Detective Hubbard were present at the arrest. Harry was arrested for obtaining property under false pretenses, but Justice Ingersoll discharged him, and he was arrested on the above false charge.

A small boy named Linnell on Michigan avenue near Fourteenth street by shooting a gallon of powder-mixture. He attempted to catch the birds alive in Henry Wade, a bill-poster and theatrical representative, who discovered him in the trick, and, it is said, struck the boy with his fist. William T. Pierce, the acting 2d assistant United States Engineer, who was passing, interfered to bring Wade to the boy with his cane, inflicting a serious wound. Both were arrested and charged with assault and battery respectively. A bond was given for appearance in a police-justice in his home, No. 217 West Forth street.

The Executive Committee which has charge of the arrangements for the second Irish demonstration to take place at Ogden's Grove next fall met at Davis's Hall last evening. The Committee on Speakers reported that T. Hunter Clarkson of New York would speak in the afternoon and Thomas Donnelly of the Emmet Monument Society of New York in the evening. The Committee on Printing was authorized to issue 5,000 envelopes, circulars, tickets, and other matter. The Committee on Correspondence reported that all the Societies had been engaged for that day and that Mr. Clarkson would arrive in Chicago on the 4th of August. Certificates of membership were issued to the Societies which had been represented by delegates. The Committee on Correspondence will write to the Irish societies throughout the country, with instructions to advertise the meeting, and to send delegates.

SOME SMART SNAKES.

There was another slight earthquake at the north at the approach of dusk about twilight Tuesday night, but the fact was kept so completely, and the commotion and fear of crash of crash and spring seem to be limited to the Second Ward, that the Inspectors report the disturbance reported to the city is that of the general is now and settled and that the danger of further and earthquakes is over. The people in the lower building which serves as a common dormitory are terrified and the large structure rocks as though a new shock of any time is imminent.

CHILDREN CRAZY FOR FIRING.

A boy fascinating but super-sweet grand father and to his bitterness and made the idea of the desire to bring home some to his four little Benson children. Five Years, Ed Owens, Albert Owens, and Rosa Perry, four youngsters, were charged with burning property belonging to Mrs. Benson, and Justice Summerfield held them to the Criminal Court in bonds of $200 each. Their parents were also bound over in the same amount to keep the children from playing with fire.

MR. STUART'S SUPPOSITION.

Mr. R. S. Stuart, who claims to be the legal adviser of Wilbur S. Stone in the garnishee case, made some serious charges in Van Cleve's police court morning against the management of the Times. A Chronicle reporter yesterday was informed by Mr. Justin L. Carpenter, business manager of the Times, that he would have replies to Mr. Stuart's accusations ready for publication to-day. Mr. Carpenter, however, declined to say what course the Times would pursue in the matter, but it is understood that the paper will not be silenced by the threats of Mr. Stuart.

DEATH FOR WOMEN.

The physician for the City Council of St. Louis has submitted a statement showing that more than 1,000 women employed in cigar-factories and stemming establishments in that city are dying by inches every year because of the long hours and poor air to which they are subjected. There are over 6,000 females employed in the factories, and the physician says that the majority of them are not more than forty years of age. Many of them are married women, and have families to support. Most of them are compelled to work from 7 o'clock in the morning until 6 in the evening, and many of them are obliged to work overtime. The physician says that the majority of the women who work in the factories are afflicted with diseases peculiar to their sex, and that the long hours of confinement and the poor air which they breathe are the principal causes of their ailments. He says that the only remedy for the evil is to reduce the hours of labor, and to provide better ventilation for the factories. The Council has taken no action in the matter.

THE DOUGLAS MONUMENT.

The corner-stone of the new monument to Stephen A. Douglas will be laid with appropriate ceremonies at Douglas Park on Saturday afternoon, August 16. The Douglas Monument Association, which has charge of the matter, has issued invitations to the Governors of the States and Territories, the Governor-General of Canada, the Governors of the Provinces, the Mayors of the principal cities in the United States and Canada, and the Presidents of the various Historical Societies in the country to be present on the occasion. The Association has also invited the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln to be present and deliver an address. The Association has also invited the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln to be present and deliver an address. ### THE GOULD INVESTIGATION.

The inquest on the body of Charles Kelly, one of the saloon assistants of the owner of Gould's saloon and Kirk street Sunday night, was held yesterday at Cook County Hospital by Dr. Rhode & Schlesinger, of the hospital staff, and a verdict was rendered to the effect that the deceased came to his death from a pistol-shot wound in the head, fired by some person unknown. The evidence was very conflicting, and the jury could not agree as to whether the shot was fired by Gould or by one of the bartenders. Gould was released from custody, and the bartenders were held to the Criminal Court in bonds of $500 each. Gould's bail was fixed at $1,000, but he was released on his own recognizance.

THE GOULD ARRESTED.

Judge Moran yesterday ordered the arrest of Gould, the saloon-keeper who shot and killed Charles Kelly, a saloon assistant, in Gould's saloon, on Kirk street, Sunday night. Gould was arrested by Officer Hanley, and was taken before Justice Summerfield, who refused to accept bail, and committed him to the County Jail. Gould's counsel will apply to Judge Moran to-day for a writ of habeas corpus, and will endeavor to secure the release of their client on bail.

MONEY.

Exchanges at the principal cities of the United States yesterday and a week ago were:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| New York | | |
| Boston | | |
| Philadelphia | | |
| Chicago | | |
| St. Louis | | |
| San Francisco | | |
| Baltimore | | |
| Pittsburg | | |
| Cincinnati | | |
| New Orleans | | |
| Kansas City | | |
| Minneapolis | | |
| Omaha | | |
| Total | | |

New York exchange was quoted as follows yesterday:

Chicago, 75c premium.
Boston, par to 10c discount.
Cincinnati, 25c discount.
New Orleans, $2.50 premium.

Nothing was known yesterday but the stock market, and the outcome worked a surprise to see that that should have been. The speculative followers have a subject of much comment. It is a common opinion that many investors are now going to the belief that reserves to be kept afloat, and that it would be for the interest of the banks to keep them afloat. It is no doubt true that there are a good many [illegible] who are really rich, and yet are having no end of trouble to carry their current liabilities on account of the tightness of the money market and the subsequent depression in long lines, etc. There is a large number of wealthy persons in the city who would have difficulty in raising a few thousand dollars. Therefore at this point in stock progress in which stocks, and in fact that most to the [illegible] many of the heroes. The banks have an generally pursuing a sufficiently liberal policy to keep reserves that are about good quarter from going down, and there is no generally very little apprehension of serious failures. One of our largest banks has the greatest advantage of rapidly strong classes of paper in the most favorable of this. There is a considerable collection of capital among those who are not interested in such matters as in the current of the money market for the fact, but the general feeling is that the rates will not be lower than they are now. Attention is called to the fact that large gains will have to be looked up to [illegible] from the recent activities in the agricultural regions.

Eastern exchange sold in this city at the premium on $1,000 yesterday, but it is cheaper than it has recently been in the more Northern cities, indicating that there is an increase of [illegible] against products, and when Eastern bills were sold here yesterday by Cincinnati parties hence the rates prevailing here. The difference in their cost prices will serve to indicate the [illegible] movement of money. Foreign exchange has barely moved the money here was small. The actual rates for bankers sterling were 4.87 for sixty days and 4.89 for demand, actual business being done at 4.87@4.87½. Commercial sixty days sold at 4.85@4.85½. There has been some increase in [illegible] here, but not equal to that in other cities.

Government securities were quiet and steady. The sales in the Chicago Stock Exchange were $1,500 Five-twos to 4s at, $1,000 Sixes, Central Pacific 1st at 104½, and $1,000 Kansas Pacific 6s at 101½. Among the sales over the counters were the following:

[illegible]

The following were the closing prices in the Stock Exchange except where a dagger (†) indicates that the price was asked without a sale:

[illegible]

The sales of stocks on the New York exchange were 91,000 shares. They for one week [illegible] have been for a long time. [illegible] of stocks advanced, even the [illegible]. The bulls had everything their own account and many times were heard into covering. Out of 1,000 St. Paul was covered. The [illegible] of J. H. Wade, Stephen A. Cu., & Co. took the most lively of good standing, was prominent, but it had no effect on the market. It is stated that there was large foreign buying. The Vanderbilt people are doing nothing, but they say that if the Grand combination failed to [illegible] they will at once start in there help. Reports [illegible] were that the St. Paul shares were partially covered, but the market does not show it, and such statements are to be received as part of the game of the manipulators who [illegible] to have gone short of this stock. Union Pacific was strong. The earnings of the first two weeks of July are said to show a increase of $100,000. The English shareholders are now [illegible] of the [illegible] of Louisville & Nashville, having to convert their holdings [illegible] shares in the two lines, and they will therefore control the road after the English [illegible]. Chicago operators are generally [illegible] to buy Rock Island on the [illegible] for both a strong [illegible] market, and are not [illegible] stock. If there is not a serious break, a good many people here will be disappointed. The [illegible] is that the bulls are covering on the [illegible] to [illegible] and take the shelter of their [illegible], but that gives the [illegible] short [illegible] to the last few months with very [illegible] support, and it is not likely of [illegible] this time. The fact is that the [illegible] generally have enough to do to take care of their own legitimate business.

[illegible]

New York, July 23.—[Special.]—The [illegible] money article was: To the [illegible] of most people from Saturday [illegible] look a real [illegible] very [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
